About CSI, Surat Chapter

CSI, Surat chapter is one of the old chapters of CSI in the state of Gujarat. The chapter has professionals from various industries in addition to academicians. It has 3 student branches, and are very active in conducting programs for the benifits of the students. Under its reputed banner, it has a rich history of organizing many activities individually as too in association with other agencies like IEI, NIT (Surat) and NASSCOM.

About the College

Narmada College of Computer Application (NCCA), Bharuch is an excellent example of industry institute interface. The college established in the year 1999 is an initiative of professional management of Gujarat Narmada Valley Fertilizers Corporation Limited (GNFC) and is managed by Narmada Education and Scientific Research Society (NEST). A beautiful natural campus in 16 acres of land has been developed over this period of time on the bank of river Narmada, Zadeshwar on National Highway No. 8, 6 kms. from the historical city of Bharuch. The institute is self financed, approved by AICTE, New Delhi and affiliated with Gujarat Technological University, Ahmedabad.

About the Course

Teaching students is a very noble profession. Teachers are expected to have excellent knowledge and also the skill to make that knowledge reach the minds of the students. Teachers are expected to make students learn and ignite an inspiration amongst them so that they can think beyond what is learnt. It is highly necessary that students are first attracted to attend the classes and secondly in classes are kept attentive and awakened enough to grasp the concepts. The FDP intends to enrich the lecture delivering skills of teachers so that the lectures become more attractive and attentive. The FDP intends to discuss, elaborate and execute various active teaching learning strategies for meeting this requirement. The FDP will also provide a platform to teachers to interact with peers and experts and come out with various 'good' as well as 'active' practices that could be followed in pursuit of this noble profession. The course is intended for an audience comprising of faculties only. All the participants will be awarded with the Participation Certificate of FDP.

Invited Speakers

Highly experienced, distinguished, eminent and expert professionals including Deans, Principals and Directors of reputed institutions will be engaging the sessions. A selected few specials sessions will also be engaged by reputed Entrepreneurs, Industrialists and Parents to convey their expectations from the teaching fraternity.
