“Being named industry winner of the prestigious ‘Best Innovator’ award underscores our goal to be at the forefront in shaping technological advances and to offer our customers the latest solutions at all times. This is backed by the cross-segment integration of all aspects of our expertise. Diversity is one of our strengths,” said Jürg Oleas, Chairman of GEA Group’s Executive Board.

“GEA Group clearly and explicitly defined its growth objectives using the topic of innovation. The intelligent solution of promoting decentralized entrepreneurship in combination with company-wide innovation portfolio management was especially interesting,” noted Dr. Kai Engel, partner at management consultants A.T. Kearney and contest initiator, explaining the jury’s decision.

The jury assessed exemplary concepts in development as they will as organization and processes in innovation management for the seventh time in this contest, held under the patronage of the Federal Minister of Economics and Technology together with German business magazine WirtschaftsWoche and management consultants A.T. Kearney.
