Vadodara (In Association with Parul Institute of Technology, Parul Institute of Engineering & Technology (Diploma Studies) & Parul Polytechnic Institute) under the Technical Sponsorship of ISTE & IETE Student Chapters on 17th & 18th February, 2011.

Introduction

Jobmela is like “One-stop shopping” for career seekers. It becomes a more common method of entry level recruitment and initial screening. For the corporate recruiter they offer an opportunity to reach interviewing terminal velocity the higher possible number in the shortest possible amount of time. Jobmela is good place to meet many company representatives from corporations of all industries and sizes during short period of time rather it is convenient and economical way for employers and potential employees to meet. So you can see that Jobmela is both an opportunity to “sell yourself” to gain valuable information about the companies and positions to which you may be applying.

Our Philosophy

In today’s scenario of globalization and open economy while India is poised to be a hub of manufacturing activity, while world is all about to shift their manufacturing base to India, we at India have the biggest strength of Human Resources subject to condition that proper skill levels are generated and manpower with proper attitude is made available to en cash our strength. It is not only institution doing well, stand alone but due participation of end users i.e. industry is also to be assured. A step forward was taken by the Parul Institute of Engineering and Technology, Waghodia, Vadodara by initiating the concept of Jobmela for Diploma as well as Degree graduates of the nation. The Jobmela gives a uniform platform for all the candidates from across the nation, giving equal opportunity to all irrespective of geographic location of the Institute. Jobmela not only gives opportunity to existing students but is source of motivation for admission seekers and will attract better brain too.

It is observed that while campus interview are conducted, a whole day of particular class is utilized. If there are 40 campus interviews for a particular college then 40 days are consumed for the job. On other hand if a particular industry wants 40 candidates of particular profile then they may have to visit 6-7 Institutes and 7 days with long travels & other expenses incurred. While in Jobmela same job is done in 2-3 days, hence a large saving of man hours for both the Institute and Industry too.

Our Purpose

- To bring Student /Candidates together with potential employers.
- Students can get information about many companies and their recruitment strategies and styles, thus they get an edge over many other students who don't attend the Jobmela.
- To increase the placement opportunities of the students thus giving chance to interact with many industries.
- Attending Jobmela can assist the students in developing the career path and learning more about the industry in which they plan to work.
- Jobmela is not interviews. They are working opportunity for the students to secure an interview.
- To provide fair opportunity to far located diploma as wells as degree students.

Jobmela Leader's Comments

The Parul Institute of Engineering and Technology organized JOBMELA 2011 on 17th & 18th February, 2011 at Parul campus has been a success. Approximately 1,900 – 2,000 candidates participated on 17th February, 2011 and around 1, 000 – 1, 200 candidates on 18th February, 2011. We counted 36 businesses in attendance out of 75 companies which registered during the 02 days of event.

We handed out the information leaflets to the candidates with a unique ID number provided to the companies. The list contained all the details about the company's job requirements. The candidates searched for the big posters of the companies that matched their interest.

The 36 employers who were looking to hire engineers, this was a very good experience, as they were able to see a high number of prospective engineers, many of whom were well qualified.

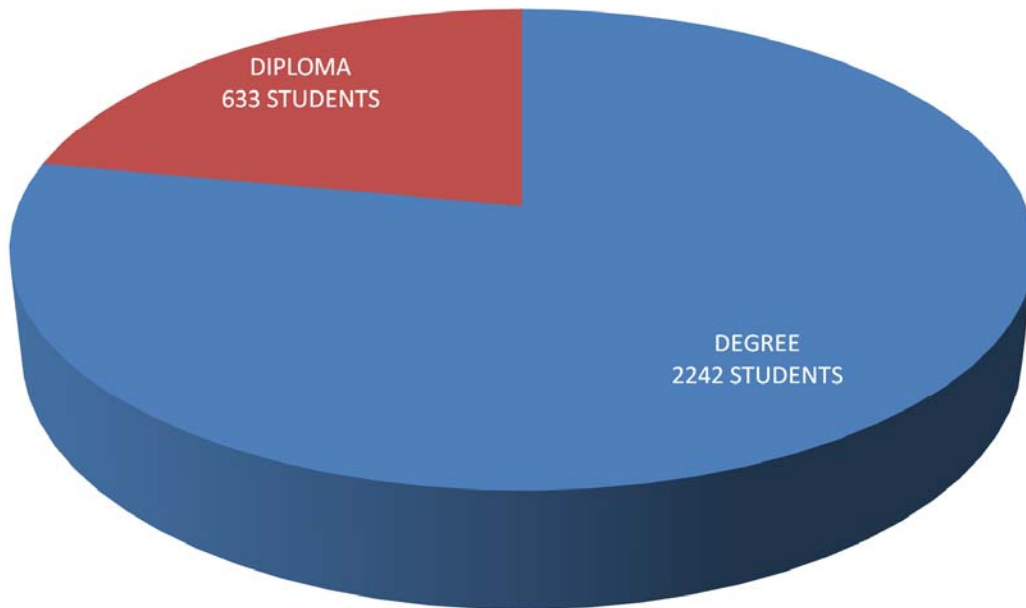

The institute had allotted individual classrooms for each company, so, when a candidate was interested in working for a company that sent no recruiter, the candidate deposited his or her CV at the desk anyway. The Jobmela team has collected all of the CVs and will be dispersing them to employers.

Job Seeker section

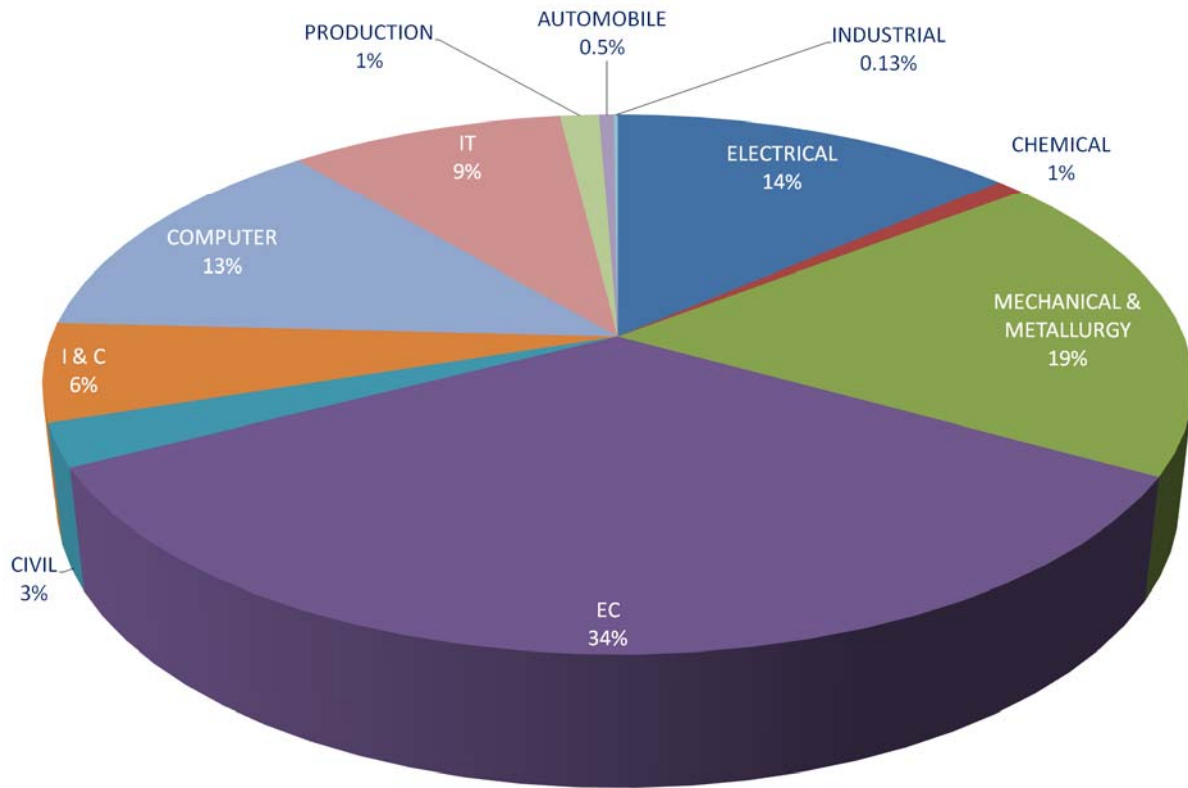

The PIET Jobmela 2011 was a success by any measure. Operation was smooth and results in general were very good with a few exceptions. The event started as scheduled at 9:00AM and lasted until early evening. The estimated number of job seekers was approx. 3,000. When asked "Do you expect a Job?" and an overwhelming 99% said "yes". 70% positive responses came from males and a good 30% from females. The good news from the Jobmela was there was a slightly better than average percentage of jobs acquired as 21% of the people reported getting shortlisted for a job as a result of the Jobmela. 64% said they spoke to at least 10 employers while at the event. 58% reported that they would be willing to participate in another Jobmela.

Participating Companies section

36 companies participated in the event among 73 registered companies. As expected, most SMEs in Vadodara have 20-30 engineers. 44% of businesses at the Jobmela employed 30-40 engineers. 68% of the businesses employ up to 50 engineers, however, only 2% have over 50 engineers which translates to over 400. The good news from the PIET Jobmela 2011 is that 97% of participating companies indicated willingness to participate in future Jobmela and thought it was a good idea.

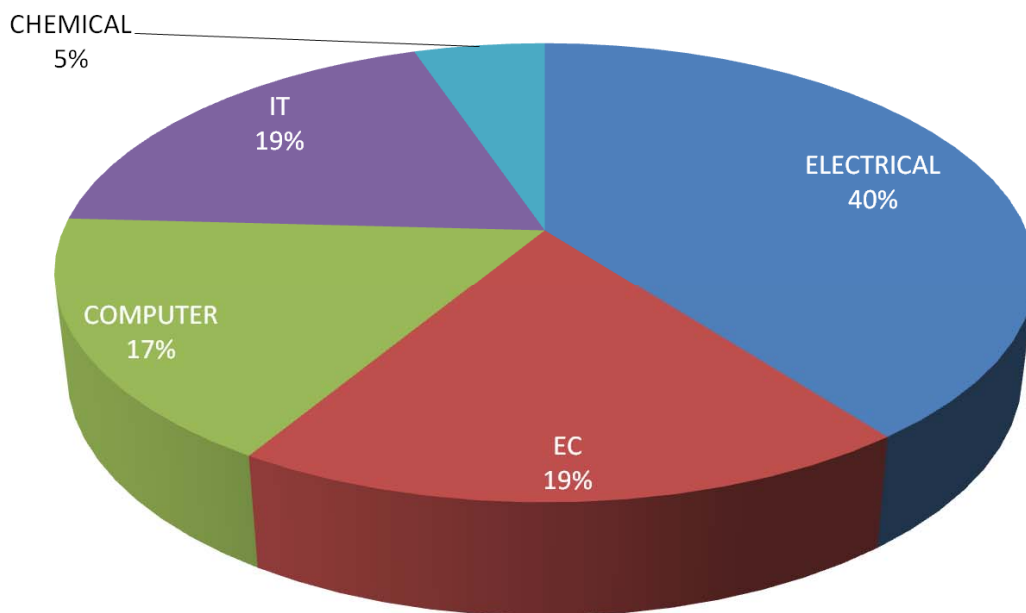

The companies who could not attend usually telephoned to apologize for not being able to attend which was a nice gesture and our staff explained to them that we would be delivering to them the CVs of the candidates who felt they had the skills and knowledge to work for the particular company. All the companies were grateful and overall thankful for the opportunity to come out and promote their business.
