- Q.5 (a) Read the following passage and answer the questions : 07
- Every one endeavors to make himself as agreeable to society as he can; but it often happens that those who most aim at shining in conversation overshoot their mark. Though a man succeeds, he should not (as is frequently the case ) engross the whole task to himself; for that destroys the very essence of conversation, which is talking together. We should try to keep up conversation like a ball bandied to and fro from one to the other rather than seize it all to ourselves and drive it before us like a football. We should likewise be cautious to adapt the matter of our discourse to our company, and not talk Greek before ladies or of the last furbelow to a meeting of country justices.
- Questions:
1. What is everyone's endeavour?
  2. What is the essence of conversation?
  3. Why shouldn't we seize conversation all to ourselves?
  4. What are the characteristics of a good conversationalist?
  5. Give meaning of endeavour.
