Indian innovators need to go after low-cost, high-value

During the interview, Dr R A Mashelkar, the chairperson of National Innovation Foundation was asked the following question:

“How are academic institutions preparing for the change?”

His response was:

“You need the right kind of leadership for this. Gujarat Technological University (GTU) is doing this.”

Congratulations to our innovative students, faculty members and GTU’s Innovation Council team on winning this accolade from a distinguished scientist.
