Nationwide Contest For Developing Mobile App For PMO

Opportunity for GTU Faculties/Students to be A PART of:

PMO APP DEVELOPMENT CONTEST - IDEATION STAGE

All of you might be aware of the contest has been launched for development of a mobile app for the Prime Minister's Office (PMO). If not than its perfect time to know that Honourable Prime Minister Narendra Modi in his recent address at the 25th foundation day of the National Association of Software and Services Companies (NASSCOM) had announced the intention to launch a mobile app for PMO.

The team developing the winning app will get a chance to visit the headquarters of Google in the United States. The first phase of development ends on 12th March 2015. To take this opportunity, GTU organizes PMO App Contest on 12th March 2015 and after that participants can give their ideas on at <https://mygov.in/task/suggest-innovative-ideas-pmos-mobile-app/>

So, we at GTU Community Innovation and Co Creation Center(CiC3) with the support of Open Source Technologies Club and Mobile and Wireless Technologies Club are ready to contribute to Digital India Mission. We are organizing an Ideation Workshop which will intend to collectively get thoughts from across the GTU community and contribute toward this open contest.
