Abstract:

In this presentation, I will discuss on the topic "One Step to Transform Engineering Education System in India". In India large numbers of engineering institutes are affiliated to different Universities. Very huge number of engineers comes out from many engineering institutes. There are several excellent teachers in many engineering institutes. But quality of engineering education system is facing many problems. In this webinar, I am focusing on the current engineering education system in private engineering institutes and one step to reform engineering education. This step will help to improve the quality of engineering education in India and will increase number of excellent teachers in many engineering institutes.
