Subject: Invitation to join Research Group at Gujarat Technological University

GTU has established “Center for Mobile Computing and Wireless Technologies” is one of the 14 PG research centers of GTU to promote research in wireless communication and mobile computing industry. The goal of the GTU research Center for mobile Computing and Wireless Networks is to develop next-generation wireless network technologies and mobile computing systems.

This research center is organizing Seminars and conference as part of its activities such as Workshop for “Emerging Research Trends in Mobile Computing & Wireless Technologies” organized on 18th October 2014 (Link).

In order to involve faculties working with all GTU affiliated colleges with the center, GTU is planning to create research group in the following area:

Mobile Computing & Wireless Technology

Faculty members interested in becoming part of above research group may register themselves at the following link before 09/02/2015:
